INFORMATION:

1. Received an overture from the Session of Cold Spring Church to amend the Holston Presbytery By-Laws regarding the examinations of ordaining bodies. (See below.) This overture will be referred to the Bills and Overture Committee at the September 12, 2006 stated meeting.
2. Received communication from the Session of First Presbyterian Church, Johnson City concurring with the overture from Cold Spring Church.
3. Received the July 5, 2006 minutes of The Journey Administrative Commission. (See below.)

Overture to the Holston Presbytery, August 6, 2006, from Cold Spring Presbyterian Church

Whereas the 217th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA) by an 81% vote retained all previous General Assembly Authoritative Interpretations and Definitive Guidance regarding matters of ordination and standards for church office; and

Whereas the constitutional standards and requirements for ordination and church office have not changed; and

Whereas an Authoritative Interpretation (AI) of G-6.0108 was passed by the 217th General Assembly at the proposal and recommendation of the Task Force on Peace, Unity, and Purity; and

Whereas said AI might open the door for governing bodies to ordain persons who depart from one or more of the standards and requirements in the Book of Order at the sole discretion of the ordaining body; and

Whereas said AI upholds the authority of Presbyteries to require the governing bodies within its bounds to comply with the standards in the Book of Order pertaining to matters of ordination and church office; and

Whereas the Holston Presbytery has consistently upheld and supported our constitutional standards for ordination and church office;

Whereas the report by the Task Force on Peace, Unity, and Purity, passed by the 217th General Assembly, strongly encourages ordaining and examining bodies to be thorough in its examinations; and

Therefore, the Session of Cold Spring Presbyterian Church, by unanimous approval overtures the Holston Presbytery to resolve to amend its by-laws to include the following:

For the peace, unity, and purity of the church, the Holston Presbytery resolves that all standards and requirements in the Book of Order for both the ordination and installation of candidates and the holding of church office are essential.

Under the guidance of Scripture and the Holy Spirit, the Holston Presbytery and the governing bodies within its bounds may grant scruples of conscience to candidates and officers over matters of church polity in the Book of Order.

The Holston Presbytery and the governing bodies within its bounds shall not grant to candidates for ordination and/or officers in the church any exemption of compliance or exemption of practice from standards and requirements in the Book of Order.

Presbytery Council, with the help of the stated clerk, may compile and maintain the list of the standards and requirements for church office in the Book of Order to assist governing bodies, inquirers, and candidates in the preparation and examination process.

The governing body charged with examining inquirers and candidates for church office shall give to its inquirers and candidates 1) a copy of this resolution and 2) the list of standards and requirements for church office compiled and maintained by Presbytery Council and/or the Book of Order itself. This shall be done for persons seeking ordination to the ministry of Word and Sacrament during the inquiry phase and shall be recorded in the minutes of the CPM. This shall be done for persons seeking ordination as elders or deacons no later than during the meeting in which said persons are examined for fitness to the office and shall be recorded in the minutes which also record the results of examination.

During the examination of candidates, whether by the Holston Presbytery or a session within its bounds, the moderator shall give the voting members of the governing body ample opportunity to question candidates regarding their faith and practice as it relates to Scripture and our Constitution. The moderator shall also give each candidate ample opportunity to state any scruple of conscience he or she might have with the doctrines and requirements of the Constitution. It is beholden upon each candidate to know the standards of the office for which he or she seeks and to state his or her scruples of conscience. All stated scruples shall be recorded in the same minutes of the governing body that report the fact and result of the examination.

All ordinations shall be deemed irregular in the Holston Presbytery which grant an exemption of practice from standards and requirements in the Book of Order.

This resolved by the session of Cold Spring Presbyterian Church on August 6, 2006.

Moderator, Tim Meredith; Stated Clerk, Richard Lewis

Minutes of The Journey Administrative Commission, July 5, 2006

The Commission for The Journey met on July 5, 2006 at 12:30 pm. Present were: Bob Lowry, Jerry Gehre, Kim Hammond, Tom Bier, Rich Fifield, William Knight, Lewy Cornett, Don Muncie, Scott Wise. The meeting was opened with prayer by Bob Lowry, and lunch was served before the business began.

Tom handed out a report on the budget update through June. Contributions are below the year-to-date needed from the attending followers of The Journey. They have reached about 20% of the required contributions through June. Tom reported that some transitional issues have slowed the growth rate due to changes in staff for The Journey. Attendance was down since the Christmas holiday. Tom has 18 families who have committed to help with different ministries during worship and other outreach meetings.

Rich Fifield gave a review of the sub-committee's meeting which was held at 11:00 am today. The focus of that meeting covered the changes to areas that needed more focus from the staff, to creating the Journey's identity for their community witness.

The discussion, after the reports, led to a question of stabilizing staff issues. Rich offered the idea of Rhonda Bier stepping into the Ministries Coordinator position since this staff roll will become open in July. The Commission agreed that this could help in many ways. Jerry brought forth an idea for Tom and The Journey to look at by asking if a new location combining the office and worship area into the same location might be better for the growth of this new church.

Our next meeting in September will be set by Tom Bier as an informal evening meeting with date to be announced. Bob Lowry closed the meeting with prayer.

August 4, 2006 sub-committee meeting – Rich Fifield added the following summary:

1. The Committee met with the Journey staff to work on three areas of need – administration development, worship leadership, and future planned events for large and small groups (outreach for the church).
2. Rhonda Bier is now on staff as the new Ministries Coordinator. Lewy Cornett is now in place as the Ministries Associate helping with worship leadership. Welcome to both.
3. Attendance has decreased in the summer months, as expected, to approximately 30-40 people. New cell groups will be started in the late summer and early fall; a booth will be set up at the Appalachian Fair for new outreach.

Dear Trustees:

I have prepared a financial analysis of the accompanying balance sheet and related statements of cash receipts and disbursements of Holston Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), Inc. (a non-profit organization) for the year ended December 31, 2005. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Holston Presbytery Management.

I have performed various tests on the books of account, in order to assess the accuracy of the reported data. Findings from this analysis concluded nothing significant. No changes were necessary to improve the accuracy of the data presented. Notes are included with this analysis to detail other information not specific to the other reports.

Respectfully Submitted,

REPORTS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY COMMISSIONERS: Tom Burleson and George Rolling shared their insights about the 217th General Assembly.

Tom Burleson, Elder Commissioner, Holston Presbytery

This was my first experience attending a meeting of the General Assembly (GA) of the PCUSA. My impressions and emotions regarding the GA were wide and varied. Some of the experiences were soaring and spiritually uplifting, others took me to the depths of despair. I am not a Minister of this denomination and my life experience dictates that my views of meetings of this sort are different. I have been a part of many large and complex business meetings before and am probably more pragmatic and less pastoral in my outlook and opinion.

It was indeed a high honor to be selected as your Elder Commissioner for the 217th General Assembly and one that I cherish and for which I am grateful. I was particularly blessed in having my wife, Peggy, also an Elder, attend the GA with me as an observer. Her support and insight were invaluable. Gathering in worship with “So Great a Cloud of Witnesses” (the theme of the GA) was a worship experience and memory I will honor the rest of my life. Just being in the presence of so many dedicated Christians and drawing from the depth of their devotion was an awesome experience in itself.

I was privileged to serve as moderator of one of the committees of the GA, entitled the “Review of GA Permanent Committees.” Only the PCUSA could invent a committee to review the work of existing committees and then report the results of the work of that committee to a larger committee. Our committee affirmed the work of four standing committees; Women’s Concerns, Representation, Litigation and Constitution. The high point of this experience was meeting and working with many talented and dedicated ministers and laity. The work of this committee was received by the GA without much comment, as was appropriate.

This year marked the 50th anniversary of the ordination of women in the PCUSA, so it was a forgone conclusion that a woman would be elected moderator. The Rev. Dr. Joan Gray from Atlanta was elected Moderator of the 217th GA. I was impressed with Rev. Gray and my confidence was confirmed as she did an excellent job of maintaining good order and discipline in what was at times spirited and often contentious debate. I believe Rev. Gray will serve the denomination well.

The first item of business was to receive a gift of $150,000,000 from Stanley W. Anderson a businessman from Colorado. The money will be available by the fall of 2006 and will be disbursed in the form of matching grants administered through the presbyteries.

Our denomination is clearly divided as evidenced by the voting patterns of the commissioners on issues of concern. Most of the votes on contentious issues were very close with less than ten (10) percentage points separating the opposing view points. There were deeply polarized positions on the far right and far left and a middle that moved according to the persuasiveness of the speakers for or against the different issues. For example, six (6) percentage points separated the votes on the Peace, Unity and Purity (PUP) report.

When I read the reports of the 217th GA in the secular and religious media, I am not sure we observed the same meeting. Sadly, the secular media and religious media seem to have lost their objectivity as they strive to support or reject certain positions. Our denomination is deeply divided over a number of issues and each side has its own propaganda machines. I would caution each of you to read with a measure of skepticism those articles from the far right and left about the divisive issues effecting the denomination. The truth lies somewhere in the middle.

I will comment only briefly on some of the major issues that came before the GA and what I believe will be their impact on the future of the denomination:

First, the Trinity Paper: This study entitled, “The Trinity: God’s Love Overflowing” was “received” by the GA. That means the report had no weight, but is simply a study of the use of various names for the Trinity, among other things. Many churches on the far left will use the report to rename the persons of the Trinity in ways that many will surely find objectionable. Many on the far right will use this report to show the denomination is on a continuing slide away from Reformed theology. The report was received by a narrow vote of 282-212. I was opposed to receiving the report and voted that the report should be returned to its makers for further study.

Second, the PUP report: The first four recommendations in the report were received by a large majority vote. Recommendations five (5) and six (6) were voted on separately and were approved by the GA. Without going into a lot of detail, the passage of the PUP report changes nothing in the Constitution of the denomination. The ordination standards as stated in the Constitution remain the same. Recommendations five (5) and six (6) contain language regarding “scruples and essentials” in allowing presbyteries examinations of candidates for ministry. The ecclesiology committee added language to the original report emphasizing that all ordinations are subject to review by higher authority in the denomination and are subject to prosecution in the church courts. I was opposed to recommendations five (5) and six (6) since they really did nothing to change the constitution, but only added fuel to the flames of an already troubled and divided denomination. In my opinion, the outcome of the approval of the PUP will be that congregations and presbyteries on the far left will ordain persons who are outside the qualifications and requirements of the Constitution. The question then becomes, will the denomination enforce its own Constitution? If not, then we will be placed into a constitutional crisis that will surely split the denomination.

Finally, what should Presbyterians in Holston Presbytery make of the actions of the 217th General Assembly; my response, not much. Constitutionally, nothing changed. The ordination standards of the denomination are intact. Some troubling reports were received. Some actions were taken that fueled an already divisive debate. But nothing really changed. Some congregations will use the actions of the 217th GA as reasons to leave the denomination. I would advise caution and restraint. There are good, well meaning, sincere Christian brothers and sisters on both sides of the debate and I believe more strongly than ever that there is more that connects us than divides us. Let us focus with the writer of Hebrews 12: 1-2 “Therefore since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.”

George Rolling, Minister Commissioner, Holston Presbytery

First, I want to thank all of you in Holston Presbytery for the opportunity and privilege to serve you as a commissioner to General Assembly. 2006 has been one of the more intense years of my life. The prayer, study, preparation, the meeting itself, and ever since have been difficult and wonderful all at once.

The Assembly has the look and feel of a large convention. Commissioners, advisory delegates, missionaries, staff and support staff number well over 1,000, and effectively take over several hotels, restaurants, and meeting halls. The atmosphere is charged because everyone knows there is important work to be done, plus controversy to be dealt with. The media, affinity groups, and hundreds of observers are everywhere, adding to the throng. Everyone involved needs to bring a healthy dose of the peace of Christ in order to survive.

Another, thing I want to say about the direct participants of the General Assembly is that they are just like you and me...from small or large churches, concerned about the same things, and wanting to do the best job they can. The General Assembly is not some alien monolith “way out there.” It is you and me...the Church.

The Assembly was so much more than the Task Force Report or the Trinity Study.

- 1) Before we even elected a moderator, businessman Stanley Anderson announced his personal pledge of $150 million for new church development.
- 2) An excellent, “moderate” Moderator, Joan Gray, was elected.
- 3) The consideration of selected divestment from companies doing business with Israel was reversed, with apologies.
- 4) Decades and centuries of missions with nations from all over the world, such as Columbia, the Congo, and Korea were celebrated.
- 5) The work of Presbyterian Disaster Assistance was applauded, especially its work on the Gulf Coast. We are blessed to have our own Tom Burleson so intimately involved with PDA. He is great!
- 6) We worshiped every day (and twice on Sunday) with the two Cumberland Presbyterian Churches. How wonderful it was!

In his report, Tom Burleson addressed the Trinity paper and the Task Force Report very well. I, too, am not in favor of changing language for the Trinity. I did not sense much support for this report, even among those who voted to receive (not approve).

I do wish, however, to say more on the report of the Task Force on the Peace, Unity and Purity of the Church, since I served on the Ecclesiology Committee, which had said report largely in its hands.

For me, the heart of the report is its modeling and recommending to all churches the willingness to listen first, talk and fight less...to practice spiritual discernment and peacemaking over - against achieving a certain agenda, whereby there are winners and losers. Could not all of our local churches benefit from such a refreshing approach? This is why I favored the report, not because I wish to lower standards. The Task Force’s ability to make unanimous recommendations to the General Assembly was little short of a miracle because the extreme viewpoints were strongly represented. Their task was not to solve the ordination debate, but to advise and ameliorate. Our experience on Ecclesiology was very much in keeping with the Task Force, and we sought to show that to the whole Assembly.

Does the adopted PUP report allow for the ordination of openly practicing homosexuals (or others engaged in all manner of sin before God)? Probably so in the case of an ordaining body that is able in its own conscience to treat G-6.0106b as a “non-essential” standard of Reformed faith and practice. But does the adopted report advocate this practice? No. All standards remain in the constitution, and the committee was very clear to say to the General Assembly that all ordaining bodies are responsible to uphold the constitution and are liable to the oversight of higher judicatories (an addition that was approved by the Assembly). That is why I think the term “local option” (which has been used freely ever since the report was published a year ago) is truly inaccurate and misrepresentative. It makes for a good argument-starter, feeding the polarization of our family. Open-ended freedom is not intended. Scripture and constitution still bind us. Parenthetically, I think most of us agree that righteousness can not be legislated, nor can we lock down human behavior by getting the wording of the Book of Order just right.

In the statement I made to the Assembly, I said, “We are too often a church that micro-manages instead of trusting our sovereign God. We are consumed by arguments that steal our strength and resources to do the mission and ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ. We are dying, but I do not believe we have to. We are driven by fear instead of faith, misunderstanding instead of wisdom and prayer, depression instead of hope, and legalization instead of liberation.” My brothers and sisters, we Presbyterians make pretty good Pharisees, and you know how much trouble Jesus had with them. Please read the Task Force’s recommendations again and carefully. There’s a lot more than has met the press.

Therefore, we are individually and corporately left with a choice. We can stay and work together (laying aside every weight that hinders). Or we can split apart and become weaker than we already have become. Sometimes we think that by disassociating ourselves from others and vilifying them, we can clear up every issue and achieve purity. But we can’t because we aren’t pure. Does anyone have all the right answers or all the correct interpretations of scripture?

My conviction coming out of this General Assembly is that we should stay together. We have a wonderful church that does so much so well. The PC (USA) needs a season of discernment (a long one), a time to back off and pray, a time to cease pushing new initiatives on old concerns, a time to do more trusting and respecting, a time “to study the peace, unity, and purity of the Church.” If we are going to be a light to the nations, it won’t be by doing what the nations already do...judging, polarizing, fighting, and splitting. It’ll be by loving one another and making that witness for Christ’s honor and glory.

New Business: The following was shared with the Council.

Communication from The Public Foundation for Stewardship Advancement, Inc.

The Public Foundation for Stewardship Advancement, Inc. (PFSA) is a nonprofit public foundation that provides financial resources for ministry. The PFSA Board of Directors has unilaterally decided to collaterally assign the death benefit of life insurance policies to Holston Presbytery equal to the principal funds Holston Presbytery has placed in the Grant Program—this is in addition to the upfront grant and the guaranteed 5.5% rate of return that Holston Presbytery is currently receiving. This collateral assignment gives Holston Presbytery a security interest in the policies and, at the death of the insured, assures that the full principal funds placed in the Grant program will be paid directly to Holston Presbytery. This independent action by the PFSA Board of Directors provides a greater measure of confidence and security in the fulfillment of our mission.

Guest Marcia Porter was introduced to speak about fiduciary responsibilities with presbytery money.

Jane Boyd made the following motion, which was seconded by Ted Hagen, Sr:

Out of deep concern for Holston Presbytery, my love for the church in its call to be servants, and my commitment to “peace, unity, and purity” of the church, I move:

That a committee of at least three persons with recognized professional expertise in financial investments and fiduciary responsibility and knowledge of Presbyterian polity be appointed by the Committee on Administration and Planning; (it may be advisable for the ad hoc committee to be composed of people who do not have current responsibility on Presbytery committees or be employees of Holston Presbytery);

That this committee examine Holston Presbytery investment processes and report to Council and Holston Presbytery its findings and recommendations at the December meeting of Holston Presbytery;

That this committee examine the relationship between Holston Presbytery and Public Foundation for Stewardship Advancement (PFSA) and the apparent sponsorship of PFSA by Holston Presbytery;

That audits by a CPA be conducted of Holston Presbytery and the PFSA;

That any and all additional investments in PFSA be suspended while the committee and the auditors conduct their work;

Please include in Council minutes Marcia Porter's letter to the Trustees, the timeline, and the questions as supporting documentation.

Bob Lowry moved that the motion be postponed until the next Council meeting (November 14). The motion was seconded and discussed. The motion to postpone was approved.

There being no other business, Tom asked for the sharing of Concerns and Prayers. Beth Yarborough closed the meeting with prayer at 8:35 p.m. The Minutes Committee met to approve tonight's minutes. The next meeting of Council will be Tuesday, November 14, 2006 at 7 p.m.

Respectfully submitted: Paulette H. Thompson

CHURCH DEVELOPMENT & EVANGELISM COMMITTEE:

INFORMATION:

1. Clinton Presbyterian Church – The committee gave Clinton Presbyterian Church and St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church the highest encouragement to share their ministry and will recommend support to Presbytery as needed.
2. Chuckey Presbyterian Church – Rich contacted Mr. Wilhoit to set up a meeting between "interested parties" to discuss options. Mr. Wilhoit no longer is responsible and referred Rich to Mrs. Love.
3. Tri City Korean Church – A request for up to $8,000 to pay for the new minister's health care was discussed. Motions approved were to:
 - a. approve up to $8,000 for health care for minister and family
 - b. strongly encourage pastor to work toward forming a Session as soon as feasible.
4. Preston Hills Presbyterian Church – Contract was reviewed and Rev. Hopper replied by letter as to progress. This information was emailed to committee members.
5. The Journey – Tom Bier reviewed the progress of this developing congregation:
 - a. They are meeting at Daniel Boone High School with attendance close to 100 at Christmas, 2005. A high so far for 2006 attendance has been 72. The summer months have averaged about 40.

- b. They have a program of “cells” primarily focused on youth with about 9 cells with up to 12 persons per cell.
 - c. One musician has been hired part-time to assist in worship.
6. David Hambrick requested time to report on activities at Old Kingsport Presbyterian. They developed a bicycle ministry where they advertised in the paper and received up to 240 old and some new bikes. They salvaged parts and put together a number of serviceable units. The program invites young people to six training sessions on the care and operation of the bikes and, upon graduation, they are presented with a bike and helmet.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN: Jackie Riddle, Vice Moderator, spoke about events in which the women are participating.

HOLSTON PRESBYTERY CAMP & RETREAT CENTER: Craig Bell shared the summer DVD.

Summer Camp – We had an excellent summer staff. They were well trained and had lots of creativity and energy. After closing each Friday, we heard very positive responses from every camper and their parents about “this was their best summer ever.” It was a very positive experience for all campers. The up side to this summer was the change in our program. The campers had more opportunities to try new things. We no longer had Action and Adventure (5th & 6th graders). They had been the only campers to be able to hike Piggy Back and camp out. Now, any group could and did camp out. 5th & 6th graders and up could climb Rock of Ages and they loved that. 7th & 8th graders could canoe the New River and camp out at the State Park. We had wonderful volunteer chaplains, drivers, and maintenance and youth workers. The weather was great, nice and cool. And, it was a very safe summer.

The down side this summer was having no lake for the campers to swim, boat or fish and the decrease in the number of campers. Last year’s total: 417 campers. This summer: 284. The following are churches that had campers:

Many lives were changed this summer. One child from a children's home came for the first time. He had been away from his family because of his temper. About midway through the week, he talked with me about wanting to come back next year because of how much the camp had helped him change his life. He explained that he was not from a family who could afford to send him. When Polly Rainey and Katie Sword (alumni who were volunteering that week) heard this, they right away offered to pay for his camp next year. God is good!

Another camper had been very depressed and not feeling loved at all back home. He came to camp and right away could feel the love of God flowing from his counselors and the rest of the staff. He had a life changing experience and asked to come back one more week. There are many more life changing stories of campers and staff.

Holston Camp continues to offer a wonderful summer camp experience for children ages 8-17 – a safe environment where they can learn new skills, be able to openly pray, share with their small group, and feel safe from the world around them. God has been blessing this ministry for 51 years. I pray that more lives will be changed in the coming years.

For 2007 – We have the schedule ready to post and registration will be available on-line again for your convenience. We feel that with the changes that have been made to the program and the positive experience all the campers had, along with the support of every church in the Presbytery, we will have another positive summer experience in 2007.

What is the Future of Holston Presbytery Camp & Retreat Center, Inc.? A task force of individuals from the Presbyteries of Holston and Abingdon will meet at camp September 1-2 for an overnight retreat. They will be meeting with a team from Run River Enterprises to begin a year long process of working on a Master Plan for the life and ministry of HPC. We will be looking at facilities, marketing, staffing, property, usage, finances, and much more. Pam and Garrie will help us process through a spiritual experience as we read Scripture, pray and look for discernment from God. If you are interesting in participating in this process, please contact Craig Bell at (828) 898-6611.

What is New at Camp?

- Thanks to a group of volunteers from First, Johnson City, we have a new outdoor worship area called the “Sanctuary”. It is a beautiful setting for all groups to use.
- Many thanks to Waverly Road for purchasing and assembling a new gazebo behind Guenther Lodge in a very tranquil setting along Wildcat Creek. The "Prayer Gazbo" as it is being called is in dedication to the Cloud family for all the years of camp support from day one helping to cut the road in. There were nine members from Waverly Road here to build the gazebo including Roy Cloud.
- The pavilion in Rustic has a much needed face lift with a new metal roof with 12 sky lights.
- The dining hall also received a new green painted metal roof.
- Thanks to “Friends of Camp” and IBM the camp now has 4 new computers and a laser printer.
- A new DVD of the camp will be out soon.

What can you do to help your Camp? Pray about its future. Pray for the campers and staff. Get involved as a “Friend of Camp” supporter. Bring your Sunday School class, youth group or entire church to your Camp for a retreat. Be a promoter in your church for all the Camp activities: Tree Cutting, Middler Retreat, Senior High Retreat, Women of the Church, Work Projects, and the Golf Tournament.

What is the status on Wildcat Lake?

According to the weekly Avery Journal July 26

The ETMA Board announced last week that plans to begin repair work on the dam at Wildcat lake are underway. Dale Pennell of McGill and Associates in Asheville is to have a topographical survey prepared by next week according to ETMA chair Murray White. "After we get the topographical survey, we will have the design and submit for permits. Next we will begin obtaining bids. We have to have a permit from the North Carolina Dept. of Environment and Natural Resources. Plans and specifications are to be sent to them by January 30, 2007.

White said that hopefully by December 2006 or January 2007, bids will be obtained and construction is slated to begin in January or February of 2007. This is the time line we are working on implementing right now, he said.

“Both sides of the original dam will be filled with dirt and there will be a barrel spillway and a riser. The water level will be the same but the dam will be 36 inches higher than it is presently,” explained White. After the work is done, and inspected and certification is issued, plans are to fill up the lake in May of 2007 from creek water.

The cost paid to McGill engineering firm will be approximately $46,000 and the estimated cost of construction is $537,000, but White said the final cost will not be known until the bidding is completed. The trust fund of the ETMA has a balance of approximately $950,000 at present and monies will be taken from this fund for the dam's re-construction.

White added that there may be a community-wide fund drive in the future to raise funds whereby people throughout Avery County who love Wildcat Lake can contribute.

If all goes as planned, beautiful Wildcat Lake, that has been such a part of Avery citizens' summers for many years, will be open next year to be enjoyed once more.

INFORMATION:

1. The annual Youth Leader's Connection is scheduled for October 20-21 at Holston Camp. Alan Kobs is Director.
2. The International Student Fellowship put in a busy and active summer. Seven of our students went to New York City on a mission trip.
3. Campus Ministry has been collecting textbooks to ship to students in Cameroon (approximately 8 boxes). We can cover some of the shipping costs and are looking for additional help.
4. YYAM is sponsoring a dinner to highlight the Presbytery's Charitable Gift Annuity Program. Bob Millard will present the program on Thursday, September 28th at Campus House. The purpose is to help grow the Holston Presbytery Endowment Fund, established by the Camp and Campus Campaign of 2000-2004, so that we can realize our goal of subscribing the position of a full time campus ministry intern from a Presbyterian seminary.

NEW BUSINESS – REPORT OF THE BILLS AND OVERTURES COMMITTEE: Dan Donaldson moved that the Bills and Overture Committee receive the overture from Cold Spring Presbyterian Church, and that the Bills & Overtures Committee meet with the Committee on Ministry Task Force to develop guidelines for the examination of officers, and that a report be brought to the December 5, 2006 stated meeting of Holston Presbytery.. The motion was approved.

Regarding the discussion of the presbytery's investments, the Bills & Overtures Committee suggested that the discussion be deferred until after the next Council meeting on November 14, 2006, at which time the Council will report to the December 5, 2006 stated meeting of Holston Presbytery. There was no further discussion.

INSTITUTIONS COMMITTEE: Jane Boyd introduced Dr. David Bushman of Lees-McRae College, Bill Farthing of Cannon Memorial Hospital and Jim Swinkola, Grandfather Home for Children, for their reports.

INFORMATION:

1. Sunset Gap. Jonathan Pflug, recently resigned as Director at Sunset Gap. Jonathan's wife has accepted a teaching position in Cleveland, TN, and Jonathan has pending offers as well. After his official departure, Jonathan will continue to lend his expertise in several ways until others are trained to assume responsibility. Funding is an on-going struggle, especially with the phased reduction by East Tennessee Presbytery. One possible new source of funding is a satellite pre-school for Cocke and Sevier Counties, possible because the school building is strategically situated in both counties. Our prayers, a dedicated Board, and some generous grants will enable the ministry to continue.

Institutions Committee commends Jonathan for his ministry at Sunset Gap. We'll surely miss his reports, always laced with humor and sensitivity. Jonathan's tenure at Sunset Gap has been marked by exceptional accomplishments in innovative programs, full summer work camps, and community service reaching many people.

2. Cannon Memorial. Odell Smith reported that John Barrett is serving as interim executive at Cannon following the resignation of Eddie Green, who accepted a position with Mountain States Health Alliance. A search is underway for a new executive. Cannon and Watauga Regional are under the umbrella of Appalachia Regional Hospital which allows two small hospitals to offer broader services as critical access facilities. Recent upgrades in the oncology center enable local care for cancer patients.

3. Lees-McRae. Kathy Campbell reports that a new academic year begins Wednesday, August 23. The college has a new Provost, Dr. Debra Thatcher, and a new Dean of Students, Dr. Thomas Balistrieri.

The Lees-McRae College Global Community Center, new this summer, will oversee global mission partnerships to Guatemala, Mexico, and India, and will host Arun Gandhi, grandson of Mahatma Gandhi, in a week of events focused on non-violence and the role of peace locally, nationally, and globally. Dr. Stephen Haynes, Professor of Religion, Rhodes College, will speak on the life of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the role of the German church during the Holocaust, and the relevance in our world today.

Campus Worship is being rescheduled to Sunday evenings to encourage more students to be a part of a worshipping community. A reformed contemporary service incorporating the arts will be offered.

4. King College. Sylvia Musgrove reported that alumna Katherine (Womeldorf) Paterson ('54) has received international acclaim as the recipient of the Astrid Lindgren Memorial Award. The prestigious award, presented by the government of Sweden, is the world's largest prize in children's and young adult literature and the globe's second-largest literature prize. As this year's recipient, Paterson also received five million Swedish crowns, or approximately $640,000, which will fund a foundation promoting children's literature.

In other activities, King has sponsored several summer mission and study trips, including a group of faculty and students who journeyed throughout Greece and Turkey. The group visited sites related to Paul's journeys, John's writings, the history of the early church, and the culture of the day. A separate group traveled on invitation to Salzburg, Austria, to participate in a seminar on "Global Citizenship: America and the World."

5. Tusculum. Susie Jones announced Theologian-in-Residence for February, 2007 is Dr. Charles Wiley, Associate for Theology of the Congregational Ministries Division of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. His topic will be "Doctrine of the Holy Trinity."

Several new faculty and administrators have joined Tusculum College during the summer. New Provost and Academic Vice President is Dr. Kimberly K. Estep. Dr. Melinda Dukes has assumed duties as Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Jacquelyn (Jacqui) Elliott has begun her responsibilities as Vice President for Admission and Financial Aid. Dr. David McMahan, assumed the title of Vice President for Student Affairs.

A Mini MBA Certificate Program will be offered at Tusculum's Knoxville, Tri-Cities, and Morristown campuses. Modeled after programs offered by Rutgers, Harvard, and UCLA, the new program is an introduction to the full MBA and allows a student to explore possibilities.

6. Evergreen Ministries, Jovanna Emerson reported that Dr. Bernard Wagner, former President of Evergreen, died July 4th, 2006, after a year long battle with cancer. Dr. Wagner served as Evergreen's President for 18 years and had just retired as President Emeritus on June 30th, 2006. He served in the field of mental retardation for over 40 years and was named one of 34 Significant Contributors of the 20th century in the field of mental retardation/developmental disabilities. John Taylor, former Vice President of Operations, succeeded Dr. Wagner as President. John Taylor has been with Evergreen for over 15 years.

Tom Beeson, Division Director for Evergreen's East Tennessee Division, has resigned. Mary Mills, Deputy Vice President of Evergreen and the individual who camped out in Tennessee eight years ago to begin the East Tennessee Division, is interim director in East Tennessee during this transitional period. Historic Presbyterian Churches of Tennessee will be available in September. Book events have been scheduled in Nashville, Knoxville and Greeneville. The event in Greeneville will be held on Sunday, November 5th from 5:00 to 7:00 PM at First Presbyterian Church. Invitations will be sent to all churches in Holston Presbytery. The Knoxville event will be held at First Presbyterian Church- Knoxville on November 6th and the Nashville event will be at the Hermitage on November 3rd.

7. Grandfather Home. Norie Anne Young reported that a record number of children, 136, are under the care of GH. Homecoming dinner was recently celebrated with great attendance. Upcoming events are the 16th annual Golf Tournament on August 27-28, and the annual Ask Event -Celebration of Courage on September 8. The latter is an opportunity for the public to visit and learn more about Grandfather Home for Children.

The cottage furniture project continues with grant money from Holston Presbytery making a significant contribution.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That Presbytery hear the reports of Dr. David Bushman of Lees-McRae, Bill Farthing of Cannon Memorial Hospital and Jim Swinkola of Grandfather Home. Information on Wildcat Lake was also shared.

Thanks were given to the Session Book Review panel (Jane Skillen, Gladys Shackelford, Charlie Smith and Spencer Pickel) for their work in reviewing Session Books today. Those bringing books today were reminded to pick them up before leaving.

12:32 PM - Promotions

12:45 PM - Lunch - Adjournment: There being no further business, Vice Moderator Cheryl Rice announced that the meeting would be adjourned following lunch and the report of the Standing Committee on Thanks. The body was dismissed for lunch with prayer by John Shuck. The Standing Committee on Thanks: Barron Hopper, Harrell Cobb and Bill Reese -- reported their thanks for the meeting and closed the meeting.
